

SELF GUIDED CAMPUS TOUR

Welcome to De Montfort University (DMU) and our campus.

We offer the perfect combination of outstanding teaching, first-class facilities and a fantastic student experience.

- Start your journey at DMU and join a student community of 30,000 who live and study in Leicester.
- Our enviable location gives you a campus university with the city on your doorstep - truly the best of both worlds.
- At DMU, you won't just get an excellent education; you'll enjoy unparalleled opportunities, and make memories and friends that last a lifetime.

dmu.ac.uk

Kimberlin Library

Edith Murphy House

Hugh Aston Building

Campus Centre

Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Leisure Centre

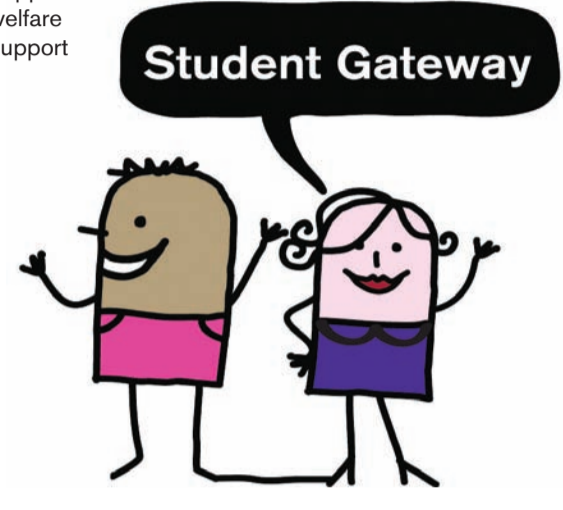

Start of tour

1

Student Gateway, Gateway House

The Student Gateway is the central place for students to go to for support and help with a variety of enquires including:

- Counselling, mental health and wellbeing
- Jobs and careers
- Enterprise and business start-ups
- Disability advice and support
- Student finance and welfare
- International student support

2

Gateway House, Faculty of Technology

The Faculty of Technology is at the forefront of important research in cyber security, computer ethics, robotics and virtual reality.

Students studying within Gateway House have access to state-of-the-art game development studios, virtual reality facilities and forensic and security laboratories, alongside access to Mac, PC and Linux based machines.

School of Computer Science and Informatics

Make your way out of Gateway House and towards the crossroads in the centre of campus

3

The Mile² Project Office

When DMU launched the Mile2 Project last year, we set out to demonstrate how the skills and expertise of our staff and students could help support a community.

Since then, hundreds of people living within a square mile of Leicester near our city centre campus have had the opportunity to take part in up to 35 initiatives which offer them new skills to find jobs, improve their health or raise their aspirations.

Working in partnership with major businesses and local authorities, the Mile2 Project is transforming lives in the community it serves and is also creating an exceptional learning environment for students.

Take a left at the crossroads and walk past the side of the Eric Wood Building up Mill Lane. On your left is Kimberlin Library

4

Kimberlin Library

The Kimberlin Library, with 1,500 study places and 400 computer workstations is at the heart of the student learning experience, both as a physical resource and virtual online service that is accessible anywhere on the web.

The library is open 24 hours a day from Sunday to Friday and 9am–8pm on Saturdays during term-time. This library gives students access to more than half a million publications and a wide range of DVDs as well as e-resources and thousands of electronic journals.

Our learning zones provide a flexible and comfortable study environment with access to syndicate rooms and presentation equipment, together with a café.

There are also special facilities and services for part-time and postgraduate students, users with disabilities and distance learners and we have dedicated subject librarians for each area of study.

Next to the library is the Queens Building

7

Walk between Newarke Point and the John Whitehead Building, on the pathway and through to The Newarke. Turn left, walk over the bridge and bear right. The Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Leisure Centre is at the bottom of the road on the right

8

Newarke Point Halls of Residence

Newarke Point is a privately managed hall accommodating 648 DMU students in flats made up of five classic or premium en suite bedrooms, as well as classic or premium studios. There's on-site laundry facilities, a common room, bike storage plus internet access, and contents insurance and utility bills are all included in the price.

Continue though the Fletcher Quad and turn left walking underneath the first floor of Fletcher Building and onto Newarke Close. Turn left and Newarke Point Halls of Residence is on your right

7a

Retail Lab, Faculty of Art, Design and Humanities

Retail Lab is a state-of-the-art research and development facility, which supports the retail sector through a range of cutting edge technology practices and research driven initiatives. From optimising shop layout and design to using eye-tracking technology to plan window display, DMU's Retail Lab is at the forefront of revolutionising our shopping experiences.

Walk to the left of the Transdisciplinary Common Room and you'll see Retail Lab in the corner

7

Fletcher Building, Faculty of Art, Design and Humanities

The Fletcher Building is home to art and design based courses and features a number of workshops that students use during their studies. This building is also home to the Contour Fashion course, DMU is one of the only universities in the world to teach this course, which specialises in lingerie, underwear, swimwear and performance sportswear.

As part of plans recently unveiled, the Fletcher Building and surrounding area leading up to the banks of the River Soar, will be transformed to create an exciting new home to the creative disciplines at DMU.

- School of Architecture
- School of Arts
- School of Design
- School of Fashion and Textiles
- School of Media and Communication

Cross the pedestrian crossing and enter Fletcher Building through the main entrance doors, cross straight through the lobby and into Fletcher Quad

6

De Montfort Surgery

The Student Health Centre at De Montfort Surgery provides healthcare for students at DMU and their families. The centre also runs a range of specialist clinics.

The surgery is open Monday to Friday 8.30am–5pm with a late night surgery on selected weekdays.

Walk past the Queens Building down Mill Lane and on your left you'll see the De Montfort Surgery

5

Queens Building, Faculty of Technology

The home of the creative technology studios and the result of a pioneering experiment, the Queens Building makes use of state-of-the-art techniques, which has turned it into a centre for sustainable excellence. DMU has partnered with companies to develop and implement the latest sustainable technologies in a living example of what green creativity and research can do.

The building houses TV, video and audio recording facilities and our student radio station, Demon FM, broadcasts from here.

School of Engineering, Media and Sustainable Development

9

Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Leisure Centre

DMU's brand new £8 million leisure centre provides our students, staff and members of the public with state-of-the-art facilities including:

- A 25 metre six lane swimming pool
- Poolside sauna
- Climbing wall
- Eight court sports hall
- Fitness suite
- Free weights area
- Dance studio
- Café

A comprehensive programme of classes caters for all users from beginners to advanced, providing a workout from head to toe.

Walk back up The Newarke, continuing past Castle Gardens and you'll see Trinity House on your left

10

Trinity House

Trinity House is the oldest building on campus, a grade 2 listed building and is home to the offices of the Vice-Chancellor and Pro Vice-Chancellors, and the Advancement Office.

Walk into Magazine Square, on the left you'll see Edith Murphy House

11

Edith Murphy House, Faculty of Health and Life Sciences

The purpose-built home for health and life sciences, Edith Murphy House is one of the two buildings that are home to the Faculty of Health and Life Sciences. This landmark building has been completely refurbished and renamed. It opened for teaching in the summer of 2011. Facilities include lecture theatres, classrooms and social study areas.

School of Nursing and Midwifery

Still in Magazine Square, at the front of the square is Magazine Gateway, the entrance to our campus from the city. On your right is the Hugh Aston Building

12

Hugh Aston Building, Faculty of Business and Law

The Hugh Aston Building is home to our business and law disciplines. This £35 million facility is one of the most exciting projects ever undertaken by the university. Combining modern study suites, IT labs, a bookshop, postgraduate study suite and a café, law students also benefit from dedicated law facilities including a mock courtroom, a client interviewing area and a new integrated Law Library, one of only a few in the UK.

Leicester Business School Leicester De Montfort Law School

Walk past the Oasis Café and to the Hawthorn Building

13

Hawthorn Building, Faculty of Health and Life Sciences

The Hawthorn Building is where it all began and was first conceived in 1897, it is the second building that is home to the Faculty of Health and Life Sciences. Featured in this building are a mock pharmacy, up to date laboratory spaces, newly created clinical skills areas and home environment facilities.

Leicester School of Pharmacy School of Allied Health Sciences School of Applied Social Sciences

Further along Magazine Square, next to the Hugh Aston Building on your left is the PACE Building

14

The PACE Building (Performing Arts Centre of Excellence), Faculty of Art, Design and Humanities

DMU's PACE Building is home to the UK's first Centre for Excellence in Performance Arts and provides a superb range of studios and rehearsal spaces for dance, drama and music technology teaching.

It has two spacious dance studios with Harlequin sprung flooring, mirrored walls, and large windows to let in natural light. There are also two more large performance spaces with sprung timber flooring and full lighting rigs; one of which has floor-to-ceiling windows with black-out facilities and four break-out rehearsal rooms; and the other has audience seating for up to 120 people, two music recording studio spaces which can be used as technical control rooms.

The PACE building also has a social space where students can meet and relax.

19

De Montfort Students' Union (DSU)

The main role of DSU is to represent your views and campaign for positive change, ensuring the years student's spend at DMU are the best of their lives. They provide opportunities for involvement in sport, media, societies and volunteering and offer education and welfare advice when needed.

18

Campus Centre

The Campus Centre is the social hub of the campus. It houses a large food court, shops and the Graduate Bar on the ground floor, the Students' Union (DSU) on the first floor, and dance studios, the chaplaincy and exhibition

Walk through the car park for Clephan Building using the pedestrian walkway. Across the road is the Campus Centre

17

Clephan Building, Faculty of Art, Design and Humanities

The Clephan Building, home to humanities subjects, houses generous teaching accommodation equipped with the latest audio-visual equipment. Our dedicated computer centre includes a state-of-the-art media lab with Apple Mac Pro computers, cinema screens and all the latest creative software applications with full technical support.

School of Humanities School of Media and Communication

Continuing on the pathway, you'll see Clephan Building on the left

16

Accommodation

Our Accommodation Office is part of the Estates and Commercial Services department, based in the Estates Development Building.

At DMU we will do all we can to make choosing accommodation an easy and enjoyable experience. We understand that each student will have their own requirements and ideas of the type of accommodation they would like. To make choosing your hall simpler the accommodation team is happy to discuss individual preferences with prospective students, to provide guidance regarding the range of accommodation provisions that we offer.

Our friendly and knowledgeable team is here to help all students to find suitable accommodation and to offer any advice on things like choosing and applying for accommodation in halls of residence, paying your accommodation bills, support that is available whilst living in halls, finding accommodation for your second year and much more.

Head back up Richmond Street and turn right, on your right is the Estates Development Building

15

The Greenhouse

The Greenhouse provides 200 seats for group and individual study, with the most up-to-date IT facilities. The space is light and airy and truly green, with LED lighting that reacts to changes in natural daylight to save energy.

Walk past the Chamber of Commerce and continue down Richmond Street, on your left is The Greenhouse

